FOREWARD

Grundy County citizens and researchers interested in her records should be encouraged to learn that Jimmy Rogers, present County Court Clerk, has an active interest in preserving and making available the records of the county. I was pleased to find in 1983 that original marriage returns I had seen scattered about the attic floor of the courthouse in 1976 had been collected and bundled carefully together by Rogers and his staff.

The fact that these documents date from 1844, when Grundy was created from Coffee and Warren counties, and pre-date the records in the clerk's volumes by six years makes their preservation even more important.

Thanks are due to A.W.C. Phelps, my co-worker at the library of the Western Reserve Historical Society, Cleveland, for the calligraphy on the cover, and to my wife, Jeanne Sherrill, who uncomplainingly sacrificed time from our summer's vacation to sit in the hot attic of the Grundy courthouse, transcribing marriage records onto index cards.

Correspondence regarding this work and Grundy County families is welcomed by the editor. Letters should be addressed to 3813 Glenwood Rd., Cleveland Heights, Ohio, 44121.

INTRODUCTION

A total of 1,141 marriages recorded in Grundy County, Tennessee, between 1844 and 1880 are transcribed in this volume. The earliest of these are not entered in the marriage record volumes which are available in the office of the County Court Clerk at Altamont.* It is likely that an earlier volume of marriages once existed, but is now lost or destroyed. Fortunately, some original licenses (returns) and bonds were haphazardly saved and are now stored in a cardboard box in the courthouse attic. These were unearthed and (for the first time) transcribed for this publication.

In addition, all original bonds and returns available in the attic were checked against the marriage record volumes, and clerk's writing errors and omissions were noted and included in this publication. Entries followed by "ob" (original bond) and "ol" (original license) or both indicate that an original document was found.

The existence of an original license or bond provides a helpful second chance for deciphering the clerks' handwriting. As the example on the cover indicates, many marriage records suffered from poor penmanship. The editor's familiarity with Grundy County surnames was often helpful, as educated guesses were sometimes the last resort. All spellings are transcribed as they appear in the original records. Names and spellings on original bonds and returns have been considered more likely to be accurate than those copied into the clerk's record volumes, but where major discrepancies occurred both variations are provided in the groom's entry.

Thorough researchers will be aware that a transcription of some Grundy County marriage records was prepared by the W.P.A. in the 1930s. This typescript volume is often used in the reading room of the Tennessee State Library and Archives, and has been microfilmed by the L.D.S. (Mormon) church. Comparison of this work with the clerk's record book shows that the transcriber took various shortcuts, such as omitting the last marriage on each page of the original volume in many cases. That volume, therefore, is extremely unreliable.

The county court clerks appear to have had the bad habit of throwing original returns into a box and copying them into the record books by batches at a later date. This resulted in numerous omissions, perhaps of about 5% of all marriages, where an original license is available in the courthouse attic but no entry can be found in the marriage record volumes.

This information is presented to warn the researcher of the shortcomings of some longstanding sources of information on Grundy County's marriage records, and to indicate that every logical avenue of research has been pursued to make this work as complete and accurate as possible.

Charles A. Sherrill

*A microfilm copy of these volumes is available at the Tennessee State Library and Archives.

KEY

| | |
|----------------------------|--|
| A | Marriage record volume A. |
| B | Marriage record volume B. |
| Not recorded | Marriages for which original bonds were found in the courthouse attic, but for which no entry was found in volumes A or B. |
| ol | Original license (as returned to the clerk by a minister or j.p.) may be found in the courthouse attic. |
| ob | Original bond (retained by the clerk and bearing the groom's signature) may be found in the courthouse attic. |
| bdsn | Bondsman; the individual who accompanied the groom when the marriage license was obtained. |
| M.G. | Minister of the Gospel. |
| J.P. | Justice of the Peace, (as a rule, names of j.p.s who performed marriages were not recorded in this work). |
| (?) | This mark indicates that the underlined letters or numbers preceeding it were difficult to decipher and may possibly be incorrect. |
|   | Underlining, when not followed by a question mark, indicates that an unusual spelling was copied as found in the original record, and is not a typographical error. |
| License only, no return | This designates marriages for which the clerk issued a license to the groom, but for which a return was never made to the clerk. This may be because the marriage was never solemnized, or because the minister or j.p. failed to return the document to the court, as was his responsibility. |
| 16A, 192B | Entries such as this indicate that a marriage was accidentally recorded more than once in the clerk's record volumes. The numbers preceeding A and B are the page numbers. |

MARRIAGES PER YEAR

The first marriage on record for Grundy County occurred on August 18, 1844, when William Price wed Matildia Meeks. This event took place only 13 days after the new county's officers met for the first time, at Beersheba Springs. The first county court clerk, recorder of marriages, was Reuben P. Webb.

Because the original marriage record volume (assuming Webb kept such a record) is not extant, few marriages are recorded before 1850. The years 1864 and 1865, when Grundy County was plagued by the devastation of the Civil War, also record very few marriages.

The number of recorded marriages per year, as described in this volume, are as follows:

BONDSMEN

Bondsman were usually friends or family members of the bride or groom. The groom was required to post a bond (often $500.) to insure that he was unmarried and that the bride was a resident of Grundy County, and that he intended to go through with the marriage. The bondsman was the groom's co-signer on this bond.

The bondsman's name here is followed by the surname of the groom for whom he was co-signer. See groom listings on pages 1 - 59 for complete references. Marriages in book "A" are not recorded with the name of the bondsman, although bond was probably required.

MINISTERS

For historical research purposes, an effort has been made to identify church officials who presided at Grundy County marriages between 1844 and 1880. These officials are listed below, followed by the surnames of the grooms whom they served. Consult grooms entries on pages 1 through 59 for full references.

In cases where there was doubt as to whether the officiant was a justice of the peace or a minister, his name has been included in this list.

The abbreviation "M.G." indicates a Minister of the Gospel.
